

When it came time to sell our home, we were very happy that we chose to list with Berkshire Hathaway, and, in particular, with Charles Perry.

Charles took the time to sit down with us and listen to our goals, and why we wanted to sell. He provided us with a market analysis of similar properties for sale, in our area, and developed a marketing plan that generated interest, foot traffic, and ultimately the offer we liked and wanted!

We had an acceptable offer on our home in less than 30 days.

Once we were under contract, Charles monitored each phase of the closing process, running interference, providing any/all documents required, while also providing us with regular updates. Charles made certain we closed on the date that was listed in our contract, and WE DID!

We are thrilled with our results and highly recommend Charles Perry, if you are serious about selling your home, and want a quick, smooth, and worry-free process. He is a man of integrity.
